The President's Secretary.

From the New York Tribune.

Mr. Brown's office is the vestibule of executive authority, and its presiding genius is something of a phenomenon. Youthful in appearance, without experience in affairs except such as the confidential amanuensis and clerk of Congressman Garfield, and later of Candidate Garfield, could gather, thrust without his own seeking into a position of great responsibility, he had before the calamity of last week already earned the respect of those with whom he was brought in contact. His position was a trying one' To him the persistent office seekers first made their unwelcome presence known, and patience and skill beyond the capacity of many experienced diplomats were necessary to deal with them without offense. Firmness in refusing when refusals were necessary, fertility and resource in postponing that which could neither be postponed or refused, were among the qualities necessary to the successful performance of his work. All at once a new and terrible emergency came, and all the world in person or by proxy must be seen and heard. From near daylight until midnight Mr. Brown's office was the busiest center of affairs in Washington. This far the anxious world came, but beyond all must be kept quiet and still, for a president was perhaps dying. Doctors, cabinet officers, diplomats, notable people in all walks of official and private life must be seen, their wants or suggestions noted and attended to, or their inquiries answered. Journalists to whom the country at large looked for information upon the one absorbing theme must be seen and informed of the progress of affairs; foreign ministers calling to express the sorrow of those they represent must be received; a hundred people at once were awaiting a word from the ever busy secretary. At rare intervals a moment was snatched to open a few envelopes from the never decreasing piles of letters, notes and telegrams upon his desk, and to dictate to his assistant replies. Through it all he has retained excellent possession of himself, and is to-night apparently as fresh as when the wounded president was brought to the Executive Mansion.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

It seems strange that anyone will suffer from the many derangements brought on by an impure condition of the blood, when SCOVILL'S BLOOD and LIVER SYRUP will restore perfect health to the physical organization. It is indeed a strengthening syrup, pleasant to take and has proven itself to be the best blood purifier ever discovered, effectually curing Scrofula, Syphilitic disorders, Weakness of the Kidneys, all Nervous disorders and Debility. It corrects indigestion. It makes the old feel young, and the young feel gay, and will invariably drive out of the system the many ills that human flesh is heir to. A single bottle will prove to you its merits as a health renewer, for it acts like a charm, especially when the complaint is of an exhaustive nature, having a tendency to lessen the natural vigor of the brain and nervous system. HAMSHER & MOSSER, Publishers
DECATUR, ILLINOIS.

TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 19, 1881.

THE St. Louis Globe-Democrat reports the progress of President Garfield's convalescence as follows: "The president is still improving. He will be well enough for the Democrats to abuse in about a week from now."

THIS year's Illinois state fair will be held at Peoria from September 26 to October 2, that of Iowa at Des Moines from September 26 to 30; that of Wisconsin at Fon du Lac September 26 to 30; that of Michigan at Jackson from September 12 to 17; that of Indiana at Indianapolis from September 26 to 30; that of Minnesota at Rochester, from the 5th to the 10th of September.

THE Dean of Westminster Abbey, very Reverend Arthur Penrhyn Stanley, died yesterday in the 66th year of his age. He was a man of broad views, and was distinguished for the liberality of his ideas. When in America a few years ago he associated with clergymen of other denominations in a missionary meeting, thereby provoking the censure of the ultra-churchmen of both England and this country.

CARL SCHURZ defines a stalwart as a man who wants offices for himself and friends, and is mad when he can't get them. This is the first intimation the public has had that Mr. Schurz considers himself a stalwart. He has been a persistent office seeker ever since he has been in the United States, and the fact that he has been compelled to subsist during a good many of these years without office sufficiently accounts for the sore toe that he has so frequently thrust under the public eye. He has at various times changed his residence, removing from state to state as failure succeeded failure in his pursuit of office, filling up the intervals between his meals at the public crib by making political speeches for whichever party would pay for his visionary and oracular utterances, but always licking his thin lips in anticipation of his return to the governmental udder. We have had a good many adventurers from continental Europe roaming around through the United States, seeking to win by their wits the subsistence that their labor would never bring them in any country, but there has never been a more magnificent specimen of the political tramp abroad in this land than this pharisaical "reformer," this soldier of fortune—Carl Schurz.

MRS. SILAS RAYMOND, of Onargo, Ill., died on Friday from a nervous shock received on hearing of the attempted murder of the president.

THE president's good humor does not seem to be lessened by his weakness. Urging his wife to go riding before the sun was too hot, the other morning, he added, with a faint smile: "I would go with you if I didn't have so much business to attend to. You will excuse me, I am sure."

THE governor of Texas declines to join in the request for thanksgiving and jubilee for the recovery of the president, on the ground that for him to direct religious services would be to make a mixture of church and state, to which he is opposed. But couldn't Governor Roberts have chosen a real old-fashioned Texas mode of thanksgiving—a grand barbecue ending in a general melee and half a dozen shootings?—Globe Democrat.

A CORRESPONDENT who has visited southern Arizona—the region purchased from Mexico by the Gadsden treaty—insists that it contains thousands of acres of fine grazing and agricultural lands (and millions of lead), much good timber, and a number of valuable mines, including those of the Tombstone district. He thinks the product of gold and silver from these mines during the present year will exceed the ten millions originally paid for the land by the United States government, which is exceedingly doubtful. When the purchase was made no one north expected the country would turn out to be of much value. The south controlled the government, and the treaty was negotiated in pursuance of the general plan of the southern leaders to neglect no opportunity to acquire territory which might in future be used to increase the domain of slavery. Something may come out of the purchase eventually, but up to this time it has been nothing except a bill of expense.

Grand Discoveries.

The discovery of a great remedy is frequently a matter of accident. This, however, is not the case with TARAXINE, now widely known and approved as an almost infallible remedy for Liver Complaint and diseases of the Kidneys and Bowels. The best physicians have for many years used various preparations of dandelion root in these diseases but with only indifferent success. After a long series of experiments, a combination, with the active principle of the Dandelion as a basis, and other improved remedies to lighten its potency has been effected, and the desired specific for these diseases has been found in the product—TARAXINE.

Conkling and the Spoils Brokers

A correspondent of the Inter Ocean thus relates how the home opposition to ex Senator Conkling originated:

When Conkling was district attorney a lot of conscienceless men, who had long been running the office tried to run it still. Their anger began then. After his first service in congress he came home, and these men, who were patronage brokers and machine politicians, par excellence, undertook to dictate the distribution of the offices. Conkling found they had made a list, in which they had proportioned the offices around among their adherents. They had a meeting which he attended, and wherein the programme was mapped out. The offices of the district were to be used as personal property belonging to the ring. Conkling was young and they were powerful. To oppose them was to invite defeat. He walked up and down the room for some time, and finally turning to them said: "Gentlemen, the offices are not your property nor are they mine. They are a public trust from the people, and I cannot trade upon them. If I am expected to do that, why the office given me may as well be taken away, for I will not do it." He adhered to this resolution, and from that day to this these gentlemen have been fighting him, and are fighting him to day.

How They Vote in Canada

Trenton American.

There are some good objects to be attained by the secrecy of the ballot, but they are defeated by the system of conducting elections, under which the polls are surrounded by partisans from whom the voter has to obtain his ballot and in whose presence he has to cast it. The method of voting in Canada, where the voter, passing from the public sight, enters a room where he is furnished by an official with a ticket of each party, thence passes to a second room, where unobserved, he selects the ticket that he wishes to vote and destroys the other one, and then entering a third room deposits the ballot and walks out, is the best method extant of securing, not only a secret, but a free and independent ballot. It ought to be adopted everywhere.

Leprosy.

The New York Tribune has lately interested itself in pointing out where leprosy exists in the United States. According to various correspondents there is a good deal of this old historic horror lurking around in secret. A letter to the paper from Key West by an army officer, stated that leprosy is there, plenty of it, but the lepers go on with their family life and business just as if there was nothing the matter with them. The malady was imported to Key West from some adjacent British islands.

WHILE all the other boys have been trying to fish for the future in the pond of gush at Washington, "Our John" has been quietly gathering his harvest at Carbondale. To see John A. Logan, with a broad brimmed straw hat, blue woolen shirt and butternut pants on, astride of his favorite mare "Dolly," going backward and forward to his immense wheat fields, and while there taking a hand in "shocking" after his twine binders, is a sight which every constituency of senators is not permitted to witness. After a hard day's work in the field with the boys, he lays on the grass with them in the evening, while lemonade is freely passed around, and all the hands join in discussing the news of the day. This is John A. Logan at home, and yet some people wonder why it is that he has such a hold on the boys. Now here is a field for the pencil of Nast.—Springfield Monitor.

EATING AND GAINING.

The President Rapidly Improving.

A Desperado Brought to a Full Stop.

WASHINGTON, July 18, 11:30 p. m.—The president's afternoon fever was a little more strongly marked to night than last night, the pulse showing an increase of four beats, temperature a rise of 5 10 and respiration a slight corresponding acceleration as compared with the maximums yesterday. In any other patient this trifling increase in the intensity of the fever would be regarded as a natural fluctuation and would not excite especial remark. But the president's symptoms are so closely watched from day to day and almost from hour to hour by the whole country that an unfavorable change, however slight, seems to have greater significance than really attaches to it, and is liable, in the absence of explanation, to cause apprehension. It is proper, therefore, to say by way of comment on to-night's official bulletin, that the facts therein stated give no uneasiness to the attending surgeons. There is a slight increase in the fever, but it arises from known causes and is undoubtedly transient in character.

The reasons assigned for it are as follows: The president during the past three days, and more especially to day, has taken a largely increased quantity of solid food. His stomach is still sensitive, and manifests its sensitiveness when overtaxed by symptoms of disturbance. Such was the case to day. This gastric trouble is thought to have been largely instrumental in aggravating the febrile symptom. Then the president this afternoon became over wearied in the hands of a barber. He expressed a desire to have his beard and hair trimmed, and his head rubbed, and at his request a barber was summoned. The latter spent some time rubbing him, and although the immediate effects were pleasurable, the results were an over-fatigue and an increased feverishness. Aside, however, from the transient rise of the pulse and temperature the president's symptoms continue favorable.

Dr. Bliss, upon being asked at 10:30 to-night whether there was anything in the patient's condition to justify uneasiness, replied: "Nothing, whatever. He is doing well. The fever is subsiding. His pulse is below 100 again, and he is sleeping quietly. He became a little over wearied this afternoon, but he will probably be as well to-morrow morning as he was this."

In reply to a question with regard to the wound, Dr. Bliss said: "The process of suppuration is going on satisfactorily and the track of the ball is slowly being cleared by discharge. In dressing the wound to-night the flexible drainage tube, without the exertion of the least force, dropped in to a depth of five and a half inches, showing that the wound is clear and open to that distance. It has been said by persons who have never seen the president since his injury, that the bullet probably did not enter the great cavity of the body at all. Our experience with the drainage tube to-night confirms our previously expressed judgment that the ball did enter the abdominal cavity and pierce the liver. I believe it passed through that organ and is lodged in the anterior wall of the abdomen." In conclusion Dr. Bliss said there was nothing in the president's symptoms to-night to cause anxiety or indicate that he is not progressing as favorably as could be expected. At 11:30 the president's pulse is 96, and he is sleeping quietly.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Among the indictments found by the criminal court grand jury to-day was one against Geo. W. Ingalls, formerly United States Indian agent at the Piute agency, for presenting false vouchers—one for $221 and one for $184—in 1878. It is alleged that Ingalls is a defaulter to the amount of about $100,000 to the government. Ingalls is said to be somewhere out west.

The grand jury of the criminal court appeared before the court at 1 o'clock this afternoon. District Attorney Corkhill in a short address said that when he asked that the grand jury be held until after the 4th of July, nobody expected or dreamed of so great a crime being committed as an attempt upon the life of the president. This crime is one which everybody admitted at the time would demand prompt and certain punishment in the case of a fatal result to the president. He had, therefore, deemed it his duty to hold the grand jury to await the result of the president's injuries. While all the country is deeply gratified that the president is in the way of recovery, it cannot yet be told just what action must or should be taken towards the punishment of the would-be assassin. The district attorney then read a note addressed to him by the surgeons attending the president, in reply to an official request from him as to the president's case and his recovery. The note was signed by Dr. Bliss and the other three surgeons. It was to the effect that "while the president has up to the present time done exceedingly well and we anticipate his recovery, we cannot assert with confidence that his injuries may not result fatally." Colonel Corkhill said that in view of this condition of the president, he would move that the grand jury be discharged until the 12th of September, and the court so ordered. So nothing will be done with Guiteau, not even towards indicting him, before fall.

The discharge of the grand jury today sends all the star-route cases over until October.

NEW YORK, July 18.—A Washington special says: "The intense weariness of the president with his confinement, which finds expression in almost every conversation with his friends and attendants, and the anxiety of Dr. Boynton to secure for Mrs. Garfield a change of scene and air, has led to a discussion of the ways and means to make the movement without danger.

"Dr. Bliss says the motion of the railway train might be hurtful even in a month from now, while the danger of the track, the noise, crowds, etc., render that mode of travel out of the question for many weeks.

"Colonel Rockwell proposes, first, to take the president to Old Point Comfort on the United States steamer Dispatch. Should this prove a benefit, after a few days, then take advantage of calm weather and run around to Long Branch.

"The president is strongly in favor of a seaside resort, and longs for the sea voyage.

"Mrs. Garfield has taken strong dislike to the White House. She says every hour in it has been replete with care, illness and danger. She believes the president would recover quickly if once out of its influence.

"The party on the Dispatch will probably be limited to the president and Mrs. Garfield, General Swaim, Colonel Rockwell and Mrs. Rockwell, with Drs. Bliss and Boynton and Mrs. Edison and Mr. Crump as the medical corps. Some of the details of this scheme were talked over before the president yesterday afternoon. He wanted to know when it could be done, but no day was fixed. Dr. Bliss told him he could tell better next Sunday. If the improvement continues at its present rate, the surgeons say there is no reason why the president should not spend the first week of August at Long Branch.

"Every effort will be made to keep from the president the knowledge of his mother's illness, as the shock might be injurious to him at present."

DENVER, COL., July 17.—The Las Vegas, N. M., Gazette has positive information that "Billy The Kid," the notorious murderer and outlaw, who for several years has been the terror of the New Mexican cattle men, was on the 14th inst., killed by Pat Garrett, sheriff of Lincoln county. Garrett had been on his trail for some time. On the 14th he overhauled him in a cabin at Fort Sumner and shot him dead. The Kid was a native of New York City. His real name was McCarthy.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., July 18.—The two prominent law firms of John M. & John Mayo Palmer and Robinson & Shutt, were consolidated to-day. The new firm will be known as Palmers, Robinson & Shutt. All the gentlemen are well known throughout the state, the head of the firm being ex Governor Palmer, and the others the ex-Governor's son, ex-Congressman Robinson and State Senator Shutt.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The condition of the president this morning merely confirmed the favorable reports of yesterday. There is scarcely anything of special interest in the case, save that his improvement to-day is as marked as yesterday. General Swain said this morning that the president passed a splendid night, that he slept well, and was neither feverish or restless. The recovery continues gradual, and may be said, under the circumstances, to be rapid. His sleep was not only natural, but immediately after breakfast this morning he fell off into a quiet dose, which lasted some time. The breakfast was something like that enjoyed yesterday, and was composed of solid food, such as might be given to a well man. When a patient gets from rum and milk and toast to steady beefsteak, it may be fairly inferred that he is doing well. The president evidently thinks a great deal of his eating and sleeping, and enjoys talking about it. He said to Gen. Swain last evening:

"Swain, if it wasn't for this eating and sleeping, I don't know what I would do with myself these days."

There was this morning literally no fever observable, while his pulse was at a normal stage. The symptoms all the way through are as favorable as can possibly be expected. The results of an excessive use of hypodermic injections of morphia appear to be passing away. Very little morphia is given now, and the consequence is that his sleep, being of a natural sort, is more refreshing to body and mind.

The president appears to awaken to the fact that he will soon be convalescent, and like everyone under such circumstances he loves to talk of what he is going to do when he gets up, and to lay plans for the future. His physicians are not so particular now as to restraining him in conversation and the patient is allowed to do pretty much as he pleases. Mrs. Garfield was with him as usual this morning, and was bright and cheerful. For that matter she has never appeared otherwise while in the sick room. Even when her husband was at a very low ebb, and his death was hourly expected she showed no signs of giving up. Whenever she appeared at his bedside it was always with a face luminous with cheerfulness, and this action on the part of the one most dear to him no doubt had a good deal of influence upon the president's spirits. She is very fond of talking to him now about the great public interest which has attended the case throughout. The leading papers of the country, containing the various accounts and speculations concerning him have been carefully preserved. From these she occasionally reads to the president to illustrate the condition of the public pulse during his illness. It seems to give him much pleasure to learn the unanimity of sympathy and expressions of hope from all quarters of the country. He has said over and over again on this subject that when he gets well enough he desires to read them for himself, though Mrs. Garfield playfully observed that he would find a big lot of it.

ST. PAUL, July 18.—A special to the Pioneer Press from New Ulm, tonight, says the work of rebuilding the ruins of that place is now under way, and every man, woman and child is taking part in the great work of rebuilding. A great many of the buildings which were unroofed are being repaired, so as to afford protection to hundreds of citizens whose homes were entirely swept from the earth. Reports coming from the country are, if anything, more unfavorable than those brought in. The death roll is being hourly increased by more bodies being found in the debris, and some of the wounded are dying. Not less than six of those who were fortunate enough to escape death, have since become insane. Mrs. Eckert, whose husband and son were killed, is a maniac. Teams are driving here and there to-day picking up what little can be found of value and taking it to some place of safety.

ST. PAUL, MINN., July 18.—The Williams brothers, the Wisconsin outlaws, are intrenched in a cave in the Saugatta Woods, near Durand. They are guarded by three hundred men. Governor Smith has been asked to call out the militia, that they may be overpowered and taken without loss of life.

LONDON, July 18.—Dean Stanley is dead. Dean Stanley's sister, Canons Farrar and Jones and several members of the Dean's household were present at his death bed. He remained some time in a semi-unconscious condition until he died. The News says no living divine will be more deeply regretted or widely missed than Dean Stanley.

ST. PAUL, July 18.—A Winona special says Paul Held, a Swiss emigrant, who had lately bought a farm in Eagle Creek valley, became insane through the failure of crops and homesickness, and on Sunday morning he was found dead in the first room of the house, and his wife and two children in the next room, three children dead in the bed up stairs, and the two oldest boys in the hay loft mortally wounded, all shot in the head. One boy may recover. The revolver was found in the house.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.

The following statement of William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for it the attention of our readers: He says "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as large as a half dollar. I expended over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone that at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the last three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that everyone afflicted with Disease of Lungs will be induced to take DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and be convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness. My cough has almost entirely disappeared and I shall soon be able to go to work." Sold by all druggists. 20d&wly-1

No man is ever permitted in this country to know the full extent of his rights and liberties until he has committed murder. He then finds out that he is a privileged character, for whose protection all the laws are made, and whose life is hedged round with securities not vouchsafed to the vulgar many, to whom it never occurred that men and women may be killed with impunity.—Globe Democrat.

TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 19, 1881.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat reports the progress of President Garfield's convalescence as follows: "The president is still improving. He will be well enough for the Democrats to abuse in about a week from now."

This year's Illinois state fair will be held at Peoria from September 26 to October 2; that of Iowa at Des Moines from September 26 to 30; that of Wisconsin at Fon du Lac September 26 to 30; that of Michigan at Jackson from September 12 to 17; that of Indiana at Indianapolis from September 26 to 30; that of Minnesota at Rochester, from the 5th to the 10th of September.

The Dean of Westminster Abbey, very Reverend Arthur Penrhyn Stanley, died yesterday in the 66th year of his age. He was a man of broad views, and was distinguished for the liberality of his ideas. When in America a few years ago he associated with clergymen of other denominations in a missionary meeting, thereby provoking the censure of the ultra-churchmen of both England and this country.

Carl Schurz defines a stalwart as a man who wants offices for himself and friends, and is mad when he can't get them. This is the first intimation the public has had that Mr. Schurz considers himself a stalwart. He has been a persistent office seeker ever since he has been in the United States, and the fact that he has been compelled to subsist during a good many of these years without office sufficiently accounts for the sore toe that he has so frequently thrust under the public eye. He has at various times changed his residence, removing from state to state as failure succeeded failure in his pursuit of office, filling up the intervals between his meals at the public crib by making political speeches for whichever party would pay for his visionary and oracular utterances, but always licking his thin lips in anticipation of his return to the governmental udder. We have had a good many adventurers from continental Europe roaming around through the United States, seeking to win by their wits the subsistence that their labor would never bring them in any country, but there has never been a more magnificent specimen of the political tramp abroad in this land than this pharisaical "reformer," this soldier of fortune—Carl Schurz.

Mrs. Silas Raymond, of Onarga, Ill., died on Friday from a nervous shock received on hearing of the attempted murder of the president.

The president's good humor does not seem to be lessened by his weakness. Urging his wife to go riding before the sun was too hot, the other morning, he added, with a faint smile: "I would go with you if I didn't have so much business to attend to. You will excuse me, I am sure."

The governor of Texas declines to join in the request for thanksgiving and jubilee for the recovery of the president, on the ground that for him to direct religious services would be to make a mixture of church and state, to which he is opposed. But couldn't Governor Roberts have chosen a real old-fashioned Texas mode of thanksgiving—a grand barbecue ending in a general melee and half a dozen shootings?—Globe Democrat.

A correspondent who has visited southern Arizona—the region purchased from Mexico by the Gadsden treaty—insists that it contains thousands of acres of fine grazing and agricultural lands (and millions of lead), much good timber, and a number of valuable mines, including those of the Tombstone district. He thinks the product of gold and silver from these mines during the present year will exceed the ten millions originally paid for the land by the United States government, which is exceedingly doubtful. When the purchase was made no one north expected the country would turn out to be of much value. The south controlled the government, and the treaty was negotiated in pursuance of the general plan of the southern leaders to neglect no opportunity to acquire territory which might in future be used to increase the domain of slavery. Something may come out of the purchase eventually, but up to this time it has been nothing except a bill of expense.

Grand Discoveries.

The discovery of a great remedy is frequently a matter of accident. This, however, is not the case with Taraxine, now widely known and approved as an almost infallible remedy for Liver Complaint and diseases of the Kidneys and Bowels. The best physicians have for many years used various preparations of dandelion root in these diseases but with only indifferent success. After a long series of experiments, a combination, with the active principle of the Dandelion as a basis, and other improved remedies to heighten its potency has been effected, and the desired specific for these diseases has been found in the product—Taraxine.

They say that we drink about 10,000,000 bottles of what is regarded as French Champagne wines in a year in the United States, and the estimate for some other countries: England, 5,000,000; Russia, 2,000,000; France, 2,000,000; Germany, 1,500,000.

Conkling and the Spoils Brokers

A correspondent of the Inter Ocean thus relates how the home opposition to ex Senator Conkling originated:

When Conkling was district attorney a lot of conscienceless men, who had long been running the office tried to run it still. Their anger began then. After his first service in congress he came home, and these men, who were patronage brokers and machine politicians, par excellence, undertook to dictate the distribution of the offices. Conkling found they had made a list, in which they had proportioned the offices around among their adherents. They had a meeting which he attended, and wherein the programme was mapped out. The offices of the district were to be used as personal property belonging to the ring. Conkling was young and they were powerful. To oppose them was to invite defeat. He walked up and down the room for some time, and finally turning to them said: "Gentlemen, the offices are not your property nor are they mine. They are a public trust from the people, and I cannot trade upon them. If I am expected to do that, why the office given me may as well be taken away, for I will not do it." He adhered to this resolution, and from that day to this these gentlemen have been fighting him, and are fighting him to-day.

How They Vote in Canada

Trenton American.

There are some good objects to be attained by the secrecy of the ballot, but they are defeated by the system of conducting elections, under which the polls are surrounded by partisans from whom the voter has to obtain his ballot and in whose presence he has to cast it. The method of voting in Canada, where the voter, passing from the public sight, enters a room where he is furnished by an official with a ticket of each party, thence passes to a second room, where unobserved, he selects the ticket that he wishes to vote and destroys the other one, and then entering a third room deposits the ballot and walks out, is the best method extant of securing, not only a secret, but a free and independent ballot. It ought to be adopted everywhere.

Leprosy.

The New York Tribune has lately interested itself in pointing out where leprosy exists in the United States. According to various correspondents there is a good deal of this old historic horror lurking around in secret. A letter to the paper from Key West by an army officer, stated that leprosy is there, plenty of it, but the lepers go on with their family life and business just as if there was nothing the matter with them. The malady was imported to Key West from some adjacent British islands.

While all the other boys have been trying to fish for the future in the pond of gush at Washington, "Our John" has been quietly gathering his harvest at Carbondale. To see John A. Logan, with a broad brimmed straw hat, blue woolen shirt and butternut pants on, astride of his favorite mare "Dolly," going backward and forward to his immense wheat fields, and while there taking a hand in "shocking" after his twine binders, is a sight which every constituency of senators is not permitted to witness. After a hard day's work in the field with the boys, he lays on the grass with them in the evening, while lemonade is freely passed around, and all the hands join in discussing the news of the day. This is John A. Logan at home, and yet some people wonder why it is that he has such a hold on the boys. Now here is a field for the pencil of Nast.—Springfield Monitor.

EATING AND GAINING.

The President Rapidly Improving.

A Desperado Brought to a Full Stop.

Washington, July 18, 11:30 p. m.—The president's afternoon fever was a little more strongly marked to-night than last night, the pulse showing an increase of four beats, temperature a rise of 5 10 and respiration a slight corresponding acceleration as compared with the maximums yesterday. In any other patient this trifling increase in the intensity of the fever would be regarded as a natural fluctuation and would not excite especial remark. But the president's symptoms are so closely watched from day to day and almost from hour to hour by the whole country that an unfavorable change, however slight, seems to have greater significance than really attaches to it, and is liable, in the absence of explanation, to cause apprehension. It is proper, therefore, to say by way of comment on to-night's official bulletin, that the facts therein stated give no uneasiness to the attending surgeons. There is a slight increase in the fever, but it arises from known causes and is undoubtedly transient in character.

The reasons assigned for it are as follows: The president during the past three days, and more especially to day, has taken a largely increased quantity of solid food. His stomach is still sensitive, and manifests its sensitiveness when overtaxed by symptoms of disturbance. Such was the case to day. This gastric trouble is thought to have been largely instrumental in aggravating the febrile symptom. Then the president this afternoon become over wearied in the hands of a barber. He expressed a desire to have his beard and hair trimmed, and his head rubbed, and at his request a barber was summoned. The latter spent some time rubbing him, and although the immediate effects were pleasurable, the results were an over-fatigue and an increased feverishness. Aside, however, from the transient rise of the pulse and temperature the president's symptoms continue favorable.

Dr. Bliss, upon being asked at 10:30 to-night whether there was anything in the patient's condition to justify uneasiness, replied: "Nothing, whatever. He is doing well. The fever is subsiding. His pulse is below 100 again, and he is sleeping quietly. He became a little over wearied this afternoon, but he will probably be as well to-morrow morning as he was this."

In reply to a question with regard to the wound, Dr. Bliss said: "The process of suppuration is going on satisfactorily and the track of the ball is slowly being cleared by discharge. In dressing the wound to-night the flexible drainage tube, without the exertion of the least force, dropped in to a depth of five and a half inches, showing that the wound is clear and open to that distance. It has been said by persons who have never seen the president since his injury, that the bullet probably did not enter the great cavity of the body at all. Our experience with the drainage tube to-night confirms our previously expressed judgment that the ball did enter the abdominal cavity and pierce the liver. I believe it passed through that organ and is lodged in the anterior wall of the abdomen." In conclusion Dr. Bliss said there was nothing in the president's symptoms to-night to cause anxiety or indicate that he is not progressing as favorably as could be expected. At 11:30 the president's pulse is 96, and he is sleeping quietly.

Washington, July 18.—Among the indictments found by the criminal court grand jury to-day was one against Geo. W. Ingalls, formerly United States Indian agent at the Piute agency, for presenting false vouchers—one for $221 and one for $184—in 1878. It is alleged that Ingalls is a defaulter to the amount of about $100,000 to the government. Ingalls is said to be somewhere out west.

The grand jury of the criminal court appeared before the court at 1 o'clock this afternoon. District Attorney Corkhill in a short address said that when he asked that the grand jury be held until after the 4th of July, nobody expected or dreamed of so great a crime being committed as an attempt upon the life of the president. This crime is one which everybody admitted at the time would demand prompt and certain punishment in the case of a fatal result to the president. He had, therefore, deemed it his duty to hold the grand jury to await the result of the president's injuries. While all the country is deeply gratified that the president is in the way of recovery, it cannot yet be told just what action must or should be taken towards the punishment of the would-be assassin. The district attorney then read a note addressed to him by the surgeons attending the president, in reply to an official request from him as to the president's case and his recovery. The note was signed by Dr. Bliss and the other three surgeons. It was to the effect that "while the president has up to the present time done exceedingly well and we anticipate his recovery, we cannot assert with confidence that his injuries may not result fatally." Colonel Corkhill said that in view of this condition of the president, he would move that the grand jury be discharged until the 12th of September, and the court so ordered. So nothing will be done with Guiteau, not even towards indicting him, before fall.

The discharge of the grand jury to-day sends all the star-route cases over until October.

New York, July 18.—A Washington special says: "The intense weariness of the president with his confinement, which finds expression in almost every conversation with his friends and attendants, and the anxiety of Dr. Boynton to secure for Mrs. Garfield a change of scene and air, has led to a discussion of the ways and means to make the movement without danger.

"Dr. Bliss says the motion of the railway train might be hurtful even in a month from now, while the danger of the track, the noise, crowds, etc., render that mode of travel out of the question for many weeks.

"Colonel Rockwell proposes, first, to take the president to Old Point Comfort on the United States steamer Dispatch. Should this prove a benefit, after a few days, then take advantage of calm weather and run around to Long Branch.

"The president is strongly in favor of a seaside resort, and longs for the sea voyage.

"Mrs. Garfield has taken strong dislike to the White House. She says every hour in it has been replete with care, illness and danger. She believes the president would recover quickly if once out of its influence.

"The party on the Dispatch will probably be limited to the president and Mrs. Garfield, General Swaim, Colonel Rockwell and Mrs. Rockwell, with Drs. Bliss and Boynton and Mrs. Edison and Mr. Crump as the medical corps. Some of the details of this scheme were talked over before the president yesterday afternoon. He wanted to know when it could be done, but no day was fixed. Dr. Bliss told him he could tell better next Sunday. If the improvement continues at its present rate, the surgeons say there is no reason why the president should not spend the first week of August at Long Branch.

"Every effort will be made to keep from the president the knowledge of his mother's illness, as the shock might be injurious to him at present."

Denver, Col., July 17.—The Las Vegas, N. M., Gazette has positive information that "Billy The Kid," the notorious murderer and outlaw, who for several years has been the terror of the New Mexican cattle men, was on the 14th inst., killed by Pat Garrett, sheriff of Lincoln county. Garrett had been on his trail for some time. On the 14th he overhauled him in a cabin at Fort Sumner and shot him dead. The Kid was a native of New York City. His real name was McCarthy.

Springfield, Ill., July 18.—The two prominent law firms of John M. & John Mayo Palmer and Robinson & Shutt, were consolidated to-day. The new firm will be known as Palmers, Robinson & Shutt. All the gentlemen are well known throughout the state, the head of the firm being ex-Governor Palmer, and the others the ex-Governor's son, ex-Congressman Robinson and State Senator Shutt.

Washington, July 18.—The condition of the president this morning merely confirmed the favorable reports of yesterday. There is scarcely anything of special interest in the case, save that his improvement to-day is as marked as yesterday. General Swain said this morning that the president passed a splendid night; that he slept well, and was neither feverish or restless. The recovery continues gradual, and may be said, under the circumstances, to be rapid. His sleep was not only natural, but immediately after breakfast this morning he fell off into a quiet dose, which lasted some time. The breakfast was something like that enjoyed yesterday, and was composed of solid food, such as might be given to a well man. When a patient gets from rum and milk and toast to steady beefsteak, it may be fairly inferred that he is doing well. The president evidently thinks a great deal of his eating and sleeping, and enjoys talking about it. He said to Gen. Swain last evening:

"Swain, if it wasn't for this eating and sleeping, I don't know what I would do with myself these days."

There was this morning literally no fever observable, while his pulse was at a normal stage. The symptoms all the way through are as favorable as can possibly be expected. The results of an excessive use of hypodermic injections of morphia appear to be passing away. Very little morphia is given now, and the consequence is that his sleep, being of a natural sort, is more refreshing to body and mind.

The president appears to awaken to the fact that he will soon be convalescent, and like everyone under such circumstances he loves to talk of what he is going to do when he gets up, and to lay plans for the future. His physicians are not so particular now as to restraining him in conversation and the patient is allowed to do pretty much as he pleases. Mrs. Garfield was with him as usual this morning, and was bright and cheerful. For that matter she has never appeared otherwise while in the sick room. Even when her husband was at a very low ebb, and his death was hourly expected she showed no signs of giving up. Whenever she appeared at his bedside it was always with a face luminous with cheerfulness, and this action on the part of the one most dear to him no doubt had a good deal of influence upon the president's spirits. She is very fond of talking to him now about the great public interest which has attended the case throughout. The leading papers of the country, containing the various accounts and speculations concerning him have been carefully preserved. From these she occasionally reads to the president to illustrate the condition of the public pulse during his illness. It seems to give him much pleasure to learn the unanimity of sympathy and expressions of hope from all quarters of the country. He has said over and over again on this subject that when he gets well enough he desires to read them for himself, though Mrs. Garfield playfully observed that he would find a big lot of it.

St. Paul, July 18.—A special to the Pioneer Press from New Ulm, to-night, says the work of rebuilding the ruins of that place is now under way, and every man, woman and child is taking part in the great work of rebuilding. A great many of the buildings which were unroofed are being repaired, so as to afford protection to hundreds of citizens whose homes were entirely swept from the earth. Reports coming from the country are, if anything, more unfavorable than those brought in. The death roll is being hourly increased by more bodies being found in the debris, and some of the wounded are dying. Not less than six of those who were fortunate enough to escape death, have since become insane. Mrs. Eckert, whose husband and son were killed, is a maniac. Teams are driving here and there to-day picking up what little can be found of value and taking it to some place of safety.

St. Paul, Minn., July 18.—The Williams brothers, the Wisconsin outlaws, are intrenched in a cave in the Eaugalla Woods, near Durand. They are guarded by three hundred men. Governor Smith has been asked to call out the militia, that they may be overpowered and taken without loss of life.

London, July 18.—Dean Stanley is dead. Dean Stanley's sister, Canons Farrar and Jones and several members of the Dean's household were present at his death bed. He remained some time in a semi-unconscious condition until he died. The News says no living divine will be more deeply regretted or widely missed than Dean Stanley.

St. Paul, July 18.—A Winona special says Paul Held, a Swiss emigrant, who had lately bought a farm in Eagle Creek valley, became insane through the failure of crops and homesickness, and on Sunday morning he was found dead in the first room of the house, and his wife and two children in the next room, three children dead in the bed up stairs, and the two oldest boys in the hay loft mortally wounded, all shot in the head. One boy may recover. The revolver was found in the house.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.

The following statement of William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for it the attention of our readers: He says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half dollar. I expended over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone that at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that everyone afflicted with Diseased Lungs will be induced to take DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and be convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness. My cough has almost entirely disappeared and I shall soon be able to go to work. Sold by all druggists. 29d&w1y-1

No man is ever permitted in this country to know the full extent of his rights and liberties until he has committed murder. He then finds out that he is a privileged character, for whose protection all the laws are made, and whose life is hedged round with securities not vouchsafed to the vulgar many, to whom it never occurred that men and women may be killed with impunity.—Globe Democrat.

DO WE WANT IT?

Let the Business Men and Citizens Speak and "Answer Quick."

This morning Mayor Waggoner received the following communication, which in a measure explains itself:

HEADQ'TR'S SEC'D BRIGADE FIRST DIV.,
ILLINOIS NATIONAL GUARD,
SPRINGFIELD, ILL., JULY 16, 1881.

To His Honor the Mayor of the City of Decatur:

I have the honor to inform you that the commanding officer of the Second Brigade Illinois National Guard would be pleased to receive, on or before August 1, 1881, proposals from localities desiring to furnish the necessary accommodations for an encampment.

The camp ground to consist of not less than 40 acres of suitable, well drained ground, within reasonable distance of railroad station and furnished with an abundant supply of good water. The transportation and subsistence that can be assured by localities will have much influence in determining the place for the next encampment. Per order of BRIG. GEN. REECE.
CHARLES F. MILLS, Lt. Col. and Asst. Adjt. General.

The encampment will probably be held in October next and the business men of our city and others should make a move in the matter and put in a bid for Decatur. The encampment would bring scores of military companies and great crowds of people here to witness the evolutions of the citizen soldiery, in case Decatur should win the prize—for a prize it would certainly prove to be in a business and social sense. The fair grounds would make splendid headquarters for the Brigade. They are well supplied with water, and no other city in Central Illinois has better railroad facilities than Decatur.

Who will be the first to make a move to capture the encampment?

PERSONAL MENTION.

George Hardy, jr., is anchored at Hardy Bros.' stables.

Frank Frorer visited the coal shaft on yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. C. A. Gehrmann returned to her home at Springfield this morning.

Charles H. Wingate, of Chicago, is a guest at the St. Nicholas.

Mrs. T. T. Roberts and children departed for Chicago this noon.

John Skelly is an assistant quill driver in the county clerk's office.

Henry Flood, the "boss thresher," has 22 men at work for him this season.

Miss Annie Russell will teach in the public schools at Maroa the coming season.

Two of Supervisor Shorb's children left for the east last night to visit their grandmother in Pennsylvania.

Miss Mary L. Brett will be one of the competent instructors in the Mt. Zion schools during the autumn term.

Misses Amelia and Nellie Harry are home from Cincinnati, well pleased with their trip.

Frank Liter, the young man who was overcome by the heat at Maroa last week, is now considered out of danger.

Miss Frederick, of Kentucky, is the guest of Mrs. Will Horne, and will remain here for several weeks.

Gov. Cullom thinks of sojourning for a few weeks among the mountains and breezes of Colorado.

Bloomington Leader: Mr. Geo. E. Lary, agent Cairo Short Line, St. Louis, spent Sunday in the city, the guest of his brother C. V. Lary.

Congressman D. C. Smith, of the 13th Illinois district, will sail for England August 6th, as a delegate to the Methodist Ecumenical Council.

Mrs. George P. Hardy and daughter, Miss Mary, arrived home this morning by way of Chicago, after an absence of six weeks in Wisconsin.

Charlie Challis has our thanks for a copy of the Sunday Times, published at Lafayette, Ind., his former home. The Times is full of fresh society notes and local happenings.

D. W. Brenneman is in Chicago attending the summer meeting of the Chicago Driving Park which began to-day. "Maud S," "Sleepy Tom," and scores of other noted steppers are there.

Going to Braidwood.

Charles H. Kepley will leave to-morrow for Braidwood, Ill., to learn the full particulars of the tragic death of his son Willie, which occurred there on the 17th inst. "Cash" Faunce and Michael Holland, who were with the Kepley boy at the time of the accident, got home yesterday. They say they were on a coal car train on the Chicago & Alton road at Braidwood early Sunday morning, when rain began to fall. The boys started to go back into the caboose to get out of the rain, and after Faunce and Holland had got into the caboose they missed their comrade. Later it was discovered that Willie had fallen between the cars and had been run over. Both of his legs were mangled, one above and the other below the knee, and his left arm was crushed below the elbow. The village doctor attended him, and the boys say the sufferer was treated in a shameful manner by him. He gave Willie four big doses of morphine in quick succession, and it is believed that Willie smothered to death from the effects of the drug. Mr. Kepley will endeavor to learn all he can about the treatment of his son and may bring the body home with him.

NOSES.

Cocked up noses are pert and some say not too civil,
Some have nose, like a bear when a cub,
A fine stately nose, may some time hide a devil,
And an angel may beam in a snub,
But noses of all kinds no matter their shape,
Are attacked some time with disorder,
Catarrh caused by cold will cause your head to ache,
But Electric Oil will soon put you in order.

Social News.

A pleasant tea party was given last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Bear, on West Prairie street. The fleeting hours were given up to parlor games, vocal and instrumental music.—Those present were Misses Frederick, of Kentucky, Jessie Fenton, Minnie Waggoner, Bina Hatch and Laura Einstein, and Ed. Priest, Cal. Waggoner, Harry Ehrman, Corwin Smith, Corey Rhoades, of Monticello, and others. A choice collection of refreshments were served at a fitting hour.

Miss Mollie Barnes gave a delightfully pleasant card party at her home on North Main street, last night, in honor of her brother Charley's guest, Mr. H. H. Martin, of Chicago, a member of the law school of Harvard College, who will depart for his home to-night. Those present were Misses Louie Jones, Fannie Shellabarger, Miss Jones, of Ohio, Jennie Rogers, Belle Ewing, Ida Jones, May Rogers, Nellie Durfee, Hattie Jones, Maud Burrows, Carrie Powers, Ida Bering, Flora Race, and Messrs. John W. Clugston, H. B. Durfee, James Hatfield, Mark Oliver, Charles W. Challis, Pitt Jones, of Ohio, Mr. Powell, of New York city, B. Z. Taylor, Albert, Charles and Will Barnes. Whist and six-handed euchre were the popular games. Elegant refreshments were served party fashion at a seasonable hour.

A social party was given at the home of Mr. James Souders, in Long Creek township, on Saturday evening last, in remembrance of the birthday of his eldest daughter, Miss Sodemia Souders. The supper was splendid, consisting of ice cream and an abundance of other delicacies of the season. The lawn was lit up with Chinese lanterns and was very handsomely decorated. The supper was served on the lawn. There were present about thirty-five persons. Amusements of various kinds were indulged in until the hour of departure came. It was a very pleasant affair.

THE DEAD AT REST.

Funeral of the Late Elisha D. Carter and Daniel G. Egbert.

The obsequies of the late Elisha D. Carter, whose death occurred on the forenoon of the 16th inst., took place from the First M. E. Church last evening between 4 and 5 o'clock. The services were held in the lecture room of the church and were attended by a large number of people, many of the older residents of the city being present. The rosewood casket containing the remains of the dead was adorned with Masonic floral offerings and was borne into the church by the pall-bearers, all members of the different Masonic lodges of which the deceased had long been a member. The memorial services began with a hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee," by a selected choir composed of Mrs. W. C. Armstrong, Miss Sallie McCall, Miss Mary Armentrout, and Milton Johnson, Will Goodwin and Mr. Dresbach. Dr. Goodwin after reading a biographical sketch of the life of the departed, delivered the memorial remarks based on the following words: "It was appointed unto man to die and after that the judgment." The services closed with a prayer by Elder B. B. Tyler, of Louisville, Ky., when the Masons took charge of the body and laid it at rest in Greenwood cemetery with imposing Masonic ceremonies.

IN MEMORIAM.

The following preamble and resolutions were adopted by Macon Lodge, No. 8, A., F. & A. M.:

WHEREAS, In obedience to that universal summons our beloved Brother, E. D CARTER, has been translated from us; therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of our deceased brother the Masonic fraternity hath sustained a serious loss; his warm heart for the Masonic cause and untiring labor among us for so many years has borne imperishable fruit, which has endeared him to the memory of his brethren.

Resolved, That we do most sincerely extend our heartfelt sympathies to the wife and family of our late brother in this, their bereavement, and commend them to Him whose comfort is nearest when the loss is of the dearest.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered at large upon the records of the lodge and be printed in the city papers; also a copy delivered to the family of our departed brother.

AT REST.

The burial of the late Daniel G. Egbert took place at Greenwood cemetery last evening, and was witnessed by a large company of the deceased's friends here. The funeral took place on Sunday last at St. Louis, and there were no ceremonies at the grave.

The Great Forepaugh Show—An Extraordinary Demonstration.

The following glowing write-up is from the Cleveland Herald of a recent issue. As Forepaugh's great show is to exhibit in Decatur on Wednesday, July 27th, the account of the exhibition at Cleveland will be perused with interest by old and young among the circus going public: "Yesterday, with the arrival of the great Forepaugh show, the climax was reached, and it is safe to assume that the complete history of Cleveland amusements affords nothing so remarkable in its general character. The morning trains from every direction were thronged with country people, and by ten o'clock, the hour set for the parade, the streets presented an appearance that reminds one of the recent 4th of July celebration. Every street indeed along the route of the procession was filled with men, women and children, it being estimated that no less than 50,000 people witnessed the spectacle from various points of observation. And not the least pleasing feature was the fact that everybody seemed to be repaid for the trouble of turning out, although it would be a difficult matter for any different feeling to prevail, as the parade was by all means one of the most complete and interesting that any show has favored us with in years. Elegant horses, gilded chariots, richly ornamented cages and cars, equestrians in gay and glittering costumes, a monster drove of elephants and camels, and open dens of wild beasts were were among the principal features. The veteran commander and sterling gentleman, Mr. Adam Forepaugh, appeared in a carriage and received a genuine ovation all along the line of travel. Two o'clock came, and it became absolutely necessary to stop the sale of tickets, no less than five thousand people being turned away in consequence. In the evening the demonstration was even greater. The ticket office was closed at five minutes past seven, every available inch of space under the mammoth tent being already taken. An extra detail of police was needed to prevent late comers from fairly forcing an entrance, so great was the interest and enthusiasm. At both performances twelve thousand human beings, at the lowest calculation, were forced to retire on account of the extraordinary demand for admission. Nothing like it ever before came under our observation. It was just as great a day for Cleveland as it was for Adam Forepaugh, and apparently one profited by it as much as the other.

The programme of the performance was well arranged, and everything passed off creditably and profitably.

Our Big Refrigerator.

The Springfield Monitor of yesterday contained the following:

The management of the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific Railway gives notice to agents to see that all perishable property be loaded in cars of the American Refrigerator line, these cars being built expressly for safe and speedy transportation. Cooling houses have been erected at Chicago, St. Louis, Detroit, Toledo and Decatur. Freight loaded in these cars is billed 20 per cent. above the tariff rate, which covers the cost of icing. This line of refrigerator cars is in operation over the Wabash, the Missouri Pacific, St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern, and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railways. A joint through tariff for perishable freight, to points in Texas and Louisiana, has been issued by Capt. A. F. Higgs, general manager of the refrigerator line.

Going to Braidwood.

Charles H. Kepley will leave to-morrow for Braidwood, Ill., to learn the full particulars of the tragic death of his son Willie, which occurred there on the 17th inst. "Cash" Faunce and Michael Holland, who were with the Kepley boy at the time of the accident, got home yesterday. They say they were on a coal car train on the Chicago & Alton road at Braidwood early Sunday morning, when rain began to fall. The boys started to go back into the caboose to get out of the rain, and after Faunce and Holland had got into the caboose they missed their comrade. Later it was discovered that Willie had fallen between the cars and had been run over. Both of his legs were mangled, one above and the other below the knee, and his left arm was crushed below the elbow. The village doctor attended him, and the boys say the sufferer was treated in a shameful manner by him. He gave Willie four big doses of morphine in quick succession, and it is believed that Willie smothered to death from the effects of the drug. Mr. Kepley will endeavor to learn all he can about the treatment of his son and may bring the body home with him.

NOSES.

Cocked up noses are pert and some say not too civil,
Some have none, like a bear when a cub,
A fine stately nose, may some time hide a devil,
And an angel may beam in a snub,
But noses of all kinds no matter their shape,
Are attacked some time with disorder,
Catarrh caused by cold will cause your head to ache,
But Electric Oil will soon put you in order.

Social News.

A pleasant tea party was given last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Bear, on West Prairie street. The fleeting hours were given up to parlor games, vocal and instrumental music.—Those present were Misses Frederick, of Kentucky, Jessie Fenton, Minnie Waggoner, Bina Hatch and Laura Einstein, and Ed. Priest, Cal. Waggoner, Harry Ehrman, Corwin Smith, Corey Rhoades, of Monticello, and others. A choice collection of refreshments were served at a fitting hour.

Miss Mollie Barnes gave a delightfully pleasant card party at her home on North Main street, last night, in honor of her brother Charley's guest, Mr. H. H. Martin, of Chicago, a member of the law school of Harvard College, who will depart for his home to-night. Those present were Misses Louie Jones, Fannie Shellabarger, Miss Jones, of Ohio, Jennie Rogers, Belle Ewing, Ida Jones, May Rogers, Nellie Durfee, Hattie Jones, Maud Burrows, Carrie Powers, Ida Bering, Flora Race, and Messrs. John W. Clugston, H. B. Durfee, James Hatfield, Mark Oliver, Charles W. Challis, Pitt Jones, of Ohio, Mr. Powell, of New York city, B. Z. Taylor, Albert, Charles and Will Barnes. Whist and six-handed euchre were the popular games. Elegant refreshments were served party fashion at a seasonable hour.

A social party was given at the home of Mr. James Souders, in Long Creek township, on Saturday evening last, in remembrance of the birthday of his eldest daughter, Miss Sodemia Souders. The supper was splendid, consisting of ice cream and an abundance of other delicacies of the season. The lawn was lit up with Chinese lanterns and was very handsomely decorated. The supper was served on the lawn. There were present about thirty-five persons. Amusements of various kinds were indulged in until the hour of departure came. It was a very pleasant affair.

THE DEAD AT REST.

Funeral of the Late Elisha D. Carter and Daniel G. Egbert.

The obsequies of the late Elisha D. Carter, whose death occurred on the forenoon of the 16th inst., took place from the First M. E Church last evening between 4 and 5 o'clock. The services were held in the lecture room of the church and were attended by a large number of people, many of the older residents of the city being present. The rosewood casket containing the remains of the dead was adorned with Masonic floral offerings and was borne into the church by the pallbearers, all members of the different Masonic lodges of which the deceased had long been a member. The memorial services began with a hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee," by a selected choir composed of Mrs. W. C. Armstrong, Miss Sallie McCall, Miss Mary Armentrout, and Milton Johnson, Will Goodwin and Mr. Dresbach. Dr. Goodwin after reading a biographical sketch of the life of the departed, delivered the memorial remarks based on the following words: "It was appointed unto man to die and after that the judgment." The services closed with a prayer by Elder B. B. Tyler, of Louisville, Ky., when the Masons took charge of the body and laid it at rest in Greenwood cemetery with imposing Masonic ceremonies.

IN MEMORIAM.

The following preamble and resolutions were adopted by Macon Lodge, No 8, A., F. & A. M.:

WHEREAS, In obedience to that universal summons our beloved Brother, E. D CARTER, has been translated from us; therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of our deceased brother the Masonic fraternity hath sustained a serious loss; his warm heart for the Masonic cause and untiring labor among us for so many years has borne imperishable fruit, which has endeared him to the memory of his brethren.

Resolved, That we do most sincerely extend our heartfelt sympathies to the wife and family of our late brother in this, their bereavement, and commend them to Him whose comfort is nearest when the loss is of the dearest.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered at large upon the records of the lodge and be printed in the city papers; also a copy delivered to the family of our departed brother. J. R. GORIN,
D. P. BUNN,
A. G. WEBER,
Committee.

AT REST.

The burial of the late Daniel G. Egbert took place at Greenwood cemetery last evening, and was witnessed by a large company of the deceased's friends here. The funeral took place on Sunday last at St. Louis, and there were no ceremonies at the grave.

The Great Forepaugh Show—An Extraordinary Demonstration.

The following glowing write-up is from the Cleveland Herald of a recent issue. As Forepaugh's great show is to exhibit in Decatur on Wednesday, July 27th, the account of the exhibition at Cleveland will be perused with interest by old and young among the circus going public: "Yesterday, with the arrival of the great Forepaugh show, the climax was reached, and it is safe to assume that the complete history of Cleveland amusements affords nothing so remarkable in its general character. The morning trains from every direction were thronged with country people, and by ten o'clock, the hour set for the parade, the streets presented an appearance that reminds one of the recent 4th of July celebration. Every street indeed along the route of the procession was filled with men, women and children, it being estimated that no less than 50,000 people witnessed the spectacle from various points of observation. And not the least pleasing feature was the fact that everybody seemed to be repaid for the trouble of turning out, although it would be a difficult matter for any different feeling to prevail, as the parade was by all means one of the most complete and interesting that any show has favored us with in years. Elegant horses, gilded chariots, richly ornamented cages and cars, equestrians in gay and glittering costumes, a monster drove of elephants and camels, and open dens of wild beasts were were among the principal features. The veteran commander and sterling gentleman, Mr. Adam Forepaugh, appeared in a carriage and received a genuine ovation all along the line of travel. Two o'clock came, and it became absolutely necessary to stop the sale of tickets, no less than five thousand people being turned away in consequence. In the evening the demonstration was even greater. The ticket office was closed at five minutes past seven, every available inch of space under the mammoth tent being already taken. An extra detail of police was needed to prevent late comers from fairly forcing an entrance, so great was the interest and enthusiasm. At both performances twelve thousand human beings, at the lowest calculation, were forced to retire on account of the extraordinary demand for admission. Nothing like it ever before came under our observation. It was just as great a day for Cleveland as it was for Adam Forepaugh, and apparently one profited by it as much as the other.

The programme of the performance was well arranged, and everything passed off creditably and profitably.

is the cheapest, best, and most comprehensive automatic musical instrument ever brought forth. It has 22 notes, (six more than any other musical instrument); plays in 3 keys; is simple in construction; it can be played by a child; it is absolutely perfect in its rendition of music, beating its own time, while all others require faster or slower motion.

Does away with cranks and handles, being played by direct action of the bellows. It plays any kind of music. Both Autophone and music are cheaper by far than all others. Send for circular.

The Era of News

From the Cincinnati Gazette

The wonderful acceleration in the transmission of news which steam, and especially electricity, have brought about, is not generally appreciated, especially by those young people whose memories extend back no more than a decade. There is not a town or village in the United States within reasonable distance of a telegraph line that did not learn of the president's danger long before nightfall on Saturday, and the localities must be very few and remote which have not heard the news before this. The same is true of the greater parts of Europe and many districts of Asia and Africa. Were it 1841 instead of 1881, Cincinnati would still be in ignorance of Saturday's crime, and remain so for two or three days to come. Looking back only to 1865, we find that nearly a fortnight elapsed before Lincoln's assassination was known in England. In 1817, when the death of Princess Charlotte, heir apparent to the crown of Great Britain, sent such a thrill through Christendom, the news was first published in the United States in the interior town of Northampton, Mass. A vessel, making an unusually quick voyage, had arrived at a British American port. One of the passengers, who was hurrying southward, was interviewed while the stage stopped at Northampton, by the enterprising editor of the village paper. He immediately printed the news, and thus beat the New York and Boston publishers. Such an occurrence, it is hardly necessary to say, would be impossible now. The whole civilized world is bound together by a network of wires, and every event of importance is known at each point almost simultaneously.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Prices, 10cts, 50 cts and $1. If your Lungs are sore, Chest or Back Lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster.

For You, Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It is a delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

The Era of News

From the Cincinnati Gazette

The wonderful acceleration in the transmission of news which steam, and especially electricity, have brought about, is not generally appreciated, especially by those young people whose memories extend back no more than a decade. There is not a town or village in the United States within reasonable distance of a telegraph line that did not learn of the president's danger long before nightfall on Saturday, and the localities must be very few and remote which have not heard the news before this. The same is true of the greater parts of Europe and many districts of Asia and Africa. Were it 1841 instead of 1881, Cincinnati would still be in ignorance of Saturday's crime, and remain so for two or three days to come. Looking back only to 1865, we find that nearly a fortnight elapsed before Lincoln's assassination was known in England. In 1817, when the death of Princess Charlotte, heir apparent to the crown of Great Britain, sent such a thrill through Christendom, the news was first published in the United States in the interior town of Northampton, Mass. A vessel, making an unusually quick voyage, had arrived at a British American port. One of the passengers, who was hurrying southward, was interviewed while the stage stopped at Northampton, by the enterprising editor of the village paper. He immediately printed the news, and thus beat the New York and Boston publishers. Such an occurrence, it is hardly necessary to say, would be impossible now. The whole civilized world is bound together by a network of wires, and every event of importance is known at each point almost simultaneously.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Prices, 10cts 50cts and $1. If your Lungs are sore, Chest or Back Lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster.

For You,

Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It is a delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

Macon County Circuit Court

Joseph Cobb and Amassa J. Cobb vs. William M. Cobb, Estella Cobb, Maud Cobb, John H. Myers and Peter Laux. In Partition, No. 11,[illegible]

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given, that in pursuance of a decretal order entered in the above entitled cause in said court at the May term, A. D. 1881, I, John A. Brown, Master in Chancery for said Court, on at the hour of two o'clock P. M. of said day, shall sell at public auction to the highest bidder, at the west entrance door of the court house, in Decatur, in said county, the following described real estate situate in the county of Macon and State of Illinois, to wit: Lots one, two and three (1, 2 and 3) in block [illegible] in Kaufman's Addition to Decatur, also the southeast quarter of [illegible] of the south east quarter of section sixteen (16), in township sixteen (16), north of the base line range two (2) east of the 3rd P. M. Said sale will be subject to the lease of Peter Laux on said lots 1, 2 and 3, also subject to the lien of the mortgage on said last lots now held by trustees of schools of township 16, north range 2 east of the 3rd P. M., and also subject to the right of the said Laux to remove any building placed on said last lots by him during the term of said lease.

TERMS OF SALE. One third cash in hand and the balance in two equal installments, maturing in one and two years from such sale with six per cent interest per annum until paid, the purchaser to give notes with personal security, and also a mortgage on the premises sold to secure unpaid purchase money, provided that all of said purchase money can be paid on day of sale if desired. Said sale will be absolute, and deeds to purchasers will be made on approval of sale by court.
